Course structure and content

Students have 15 hours of general English lessons per week, and 9 of filmcraft. This consists of 6 sessions of 1.5 hours.

Filmcraft gives students the opportunity to take part in making a short film. Taking the roles of script-writer, director, cameraman, sound engineer, and actors, they will write the script, act out scenes, shoot the film, and edit the footage on computers.

Over the 2-week course period, students will have 12 Filmcraft sessions, which work towards the production of a short video film to show to the whole school. Students can take home a DVD or USB of the final film.
